Season's Greetings from Pere Lenord

Greetings from all the teachers, kids and I of the St Marc's school! In their name, I present thanks to all our donors from the Haiti Project at this poorest village (Jeannette).

In the middle of tests and sufferubgs everyone to keep courage.

In almost all parts of the world, we are celebrating the season of Christmas. Christmas, family, feast of the poor, weak persons, festival of children and youth. It is time of joy in the heart of both the poor and rich people.

In Haiti, for example, at the end of the year 2013, we are experiencing a painful situation which throws us into confusion the anxiety and anguish. How Haitian families dislocated by the exodus, upset by the loss of a child, a father, or a mother, afflicted by grief, can celebrate Christmas? How the poor without bread, without water, particularly in Jeannette where we are in the dry season, without clothes, without shelter or livelihood, can celebrate Christmas? How children and youth look to themselves, living from day to day, deprived of everything, no future, no hope,

The future belongs to those who are capable of love and generosity.

As Jesus said in Mat 25: I was hungry, you didn't give me food to eat, I was thirsty, you didn't share anything to me, I didn't have dresses, you didn't wear me , anytime you do that for the smallest this is for me you do that and you will reward by God.

Merry Christmas to everyone , Happy new year and may God continue to bless our partnership!

can celebrate Christmas? How to celebrate Christmas in Haiti, in the year 2013? How to celebrate Christmas in this climate of fear and insecurity?

How to celebrate Christmas in this imbalance of lies, discord, division and hatred?

Yet Christian hope dwells in our hearts. It does not disappoint. It should comfort us and support us through. We need to celebrate Christmas this year as a special call from God to revive our expectancy. The reason for our hope, is the presence of God in our midst. Because Christmas is the birth of a child who is God and yet suffers treatment of the human condition.

How Coffee Helps Haiti

Our Haitian coffee project begins by paying much, much higher than fair trade prices for green coffee so that farmers earn a living wage. Did you know the fair trade price for green is a measly $1.80 a pound? We pay a MINIMUM $3.50/lb. Then we export the coffee to roast, sell it and return 100% of the proceeds back to the coffee farmers. Over $6 per bag goes to Haiti.

How You Can Help

One of the best ways YOU can help support Haitian dignity is to drink coffee and introduce it to others this Lenten season:

- To your fellowship hour
- To your neighbors
- To your workplace
- To your friend who knows the owner of
